Four Airmen Killed In Plane Smashup Sunday

By Jim Thomas

Four airmen from Amarillo Air Force Base were killed instantly early Sunday morning when the rented light plane they were in crashed three miles southwest of Amarillo near the Amarillo Helium Plant.

The dead airmen, identified by personal effects found on the bodies by Randall County Sheriff's deputies were:

Airman 1/C Marvin T. Bell, 27, pilot from Pantex. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin G. Bell of Roanoke, Virginia. Bell's wife, Phyllis also lives at Pantex.

Airman 3/C Jack D. Eldridge, 18, of AAFB; James B. Sullivan, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sullivan of Mount Juliet, Tennessee, and T-Sgt. Perry L. Cook, 33, of Amarillo. Cook was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Linford Cook of Truth or Consequences, New Mexico. Cook is survived by his wife, Mona.

Randall County Sheriff's deputies said the four airmen rented the light single engine plane from Ray Coleman of Golden Spread Aviation in Amarillo and took off about midnight from the Amarillo Air Terminal. They were to take a short local flight and return. Phyllis Bell, the pilot's wife, was at the airport when the group took off, awaiting their return.

The aircraft was reported to have had enough fuel to last until 3 a.m. When it failed to return, the Randall County Sheriff's department was notified and a ground search started for the missing plane. Civil Air Patrol Air Rescue Service was alerted at 5:30 a.m.

Maj. Cecil Ingram, commander of the Dalhart CAP Squadron found the wreckage at 9:30 a.m. in a freshly plowed field south of the Amarillo Helium

Death Claims Pioneer, Mrs. Anna L. Thompson

Mrs. Anna Louella Thompson, 87 years old, Randall County pioneer, died Saturday afternoon in Neblett Hospital.

Mrs. Thompson had been in ill health for some time.

She was the wife of T. C. Thompson, founder and president of the firm now known as Thompson's of Canyon. The firm still is operated by a son and a grandson. It is one of the oldest businesses in Canyon.

Mrs. Thompson came to Canyon with her husband in 1899. She and Mr. Thompson were married in Hale County in 1895. and lived on a cow ranch west of there before moving to Canyon.

Upon moving here, the Thompsons operated a little store at the present site of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company building.

He closed out the store there and went to work for a hardware company. He worked for two different hardware firms. In those days the stores opened about 4 o'clock in the morn-

Canyon High Homecoming This Week

The Canyon Eagle Booster Club is sponsoring a Homecoming Pep Rally and Bonfire Thursday night, October 18th, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the high school football field. A short program has been planned.

Roscoe Richardson, president of the Booster Club, says, "The Club is privileged to have this opportunity to participate in Canyon High School activities."

The Homecoming game, Friday, marks the start of Canyon High's District Conference games. The Lockney Longhorns have been given high AA State rating and will offer some real competition, Richardson said.

J. E. Miller, principal of Canyon High said the Canyon High Homecoming Queen will

"Let 'Em Riot!"

Joe Kerbel Faces Down Ice-Chunking ASU Fans

By TROY MARTIN

"Let 'em riot. We can take care of ourselves."

This was the answer West Texas State Coach Joe Kerbel gave an Arizona policeman Saturday night when the officer warned him that a group of unruly Arizona State fans were about to get out of hand.

The row actually had its beginning when the Sun Devil stadium was built. Some nearsighted architect designed the seating facilities in such a way that the most expensive seats bring the fan's nose to about the level of the playing field.

Traditionally, the Buffs stand by their head coach. An assistant coach usually stands on a bench or some elevated platfrom behind the players in telephone contact with another assistant high above the playing field, usually in the press box.

The fans in the lowly seats just behind the Buffs took exception to the Buffs standing and thus blocking their view.

Arizona State fans, noted for their exceptional rudeness to visitors, got the fracas rolling by yelling insults to the Buff players.

This got them nowhere fast with chesty Joe Kerbel. He kept his boys standing.

Four-letter words soon were followed by ice-filled cups, chunks of ice, bottles and other refuse.

A man with a school arm band rushed up to Kerbel on the side line. It didn't take Kerbel long to tell him how the cow ate the cabbage.

He was followed by a policeman.

"We're going to have a riot if you don't help us," the officer told Kerbel.

"We're going to have a riot down here if you don't leave us alone," Kerbel retorted.

Finally, Kerbel had his boys kneel along the sideline. This did not appease the crowd. Insult and ephithets continued.

Kerbel had his boys stand again and the fracas went on. On occasion, Kerbel turned and made shorty speeches to the stands.

After Jerry Don Logan's 99-yard run for the touchdown that spelled victory for the Buffs, Kerbel shook his fist at his tormentors.

"How do you like that?" he tossed at them.

Ground Broken Sunday For Hertiage Theater

Mayors from 41 Panhandle cities and towns broke ground Sunday for the new symphonic amphitheater to be built in Palo Duro State Park.

There was a 45-minute program which included music by West Texas State College Band under direction of Gerald Hemphill, assistant bandmaster.

A welcoming address was given by R. Earl O'Keefe, president of Amarillo Area Foundation. There were readings of excerpts from Playwright Paul Green's letters to the Panhandle Heritage Foundation. They were read by W. A. Moore of West Texas State.

Mrs. Ples Harper, Heritage Foundation president, explained the significance of the project.

The ceremony was climaxed by the breaking of ground by the 41 shovel-wielding Panhandle mayors and their representatives. Canyon's Mayor Lowes was represented by John A. Williams, mayor pro tem.

Green's letter stated, "There is a story here to tell, and I want to tell it." Green wrote: "Using sound and light, it will be possible for us in the audience to experience the blizzards that the pioneers suffered; the sandstorms that they faced and the crashing terror and excitement of a buffalo stampede."

As the band played, Mrs. Harper gave the signal for the maors to dig, thus enabling all 41 communities in the Panhandle to symbolically take part in the construction of the amphitheater.

Following the ceremonies, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce furnished iced cold drinks to the crowd. Buddy Hoskins, manager of the state park, estimated the crowd in excess of 800 persons.

Dairy Short Course Is Scheduled This Month

A dairy short course for adult farmers will be held Oct. 29 through Nov. 1 under sponsorship of the Canyon High School Vocational Agriculture Department.

Vocational agriculture teachers here are Ed Dwyer and Leon Bagwell.

Joe Hillin, dairy specialist with the vocational agriculture division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Dairy Science at Texas A&M College, will be instructor for the course.

Hillin holds a BS degree in dairy husbandry and an MS degree in dairy science. He served as a teaching assistant in dairy with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service in the Dairy Extension Program. His primary responsibility in the Extension Service is with the production testing and dairy herd management.

The short course here is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock the night of Oct. 29. There will be a series of four lectures through the evening of Nov. 1. During that time Hillin will be available to assist dairymen with individual problems and to provide on the farm instruction.

Dairymen interested in attending should write or call School Supt. Joe Gibson or get in touch with Dwyer. There will be an entry fee of $2.

E.D. Auld Is Sought

Auld would be 96 years old if he is still living.

"We have not heard from him in many years and all efforts to communicate with him or his heirs at law have failed," insurance company officials wrote in a letter to The Canyon News.

Pedro, Pilot Duel Predicted

NMS Here Saturday

Off to its fastest start since 1956, West Texas State's football team will gun for its sixth straight win without defeat Saturday night against high-scoring New Mexico State. It will be Homecoming and kickoff time is 7:30.

The game will match two of the all-time great running backs in Southwest football history — Pistol Pete Pedro of the Buffaloes and Preacher Pilot of the aggies. Pedro leads the nation in rushing with 621 yards and Pilot is right on his heels just a few yards back. Last year, as sophomores these two speedsters engaged in a national dog-fight for top honors in two categories.

Pilot was the nation's top rusher with Pedro second, and the finish was the same in total scoring. Pedro did have more touchdowns, however, with 22.

Unbeaten West Texas comes into the game fresh from an exhilarating 15-14 win over previously undefeated Arizona State U. at Tempe. The Buffs did it on a 99-yard pass interception touchdown by Jerry Logan in the third quarter, and then controlled the ball nearly all the fourth period. The Buffs did it without the services of Pedro, who at the last minute was not allowed to play by coach Joe Kerbel.

Pedro suffered a muscle strain in the first half of last week's Arlington State game, but played later, making a 65-yard touchdown scamper in the last half. It was believed all week that Pedro would be ready to go against Arizona State, but Coach Kerbel decided not to gamble on aggravating a slow-healing injury. As it turned out, the All-American candidate was not needed for the win.

After the Arizona State win, the Buffs still look awesome in the national statistics race. They lead the nation in scoring with a 40.8 average, and still rank high in team rushing with an average of 316 yards per outing. Halfback Jerry Logan added nine points to his total last week and still tops the nation in that department with 81.

There will be added interest in the Homecoming attraction because Bob Creamer of Sports Illustrated magazine will fly in from New York to do a special feature on the Pedro vs. Pilot duel. He was scheduled to arrive in Texas Wednesday.

Five anxious girls look over some annuals to see how other schools handle homecoming. One of these girls will be crowned the homecoming queen of Canyon High School in ceremonies at the football game between Canyon and Lockney here Friday night. From left are Gloria Buchanan, Sharon Franklin, Judy Bourland, Carol Brown and Joy Harter.

Jim Cowart Condition Is Improved

Jim Cowart, 11 year old son of O. P. Cowart, concessionaire at Palo Duro Canyon State Park, this week was removed from the special care ward of St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo and placed in the Pediatrics Wrad.

He entered St. Anthony's last Monday, October 8 for a physical examination. While in the hospital he developed complications which led to his being placed on the critical list.

He was in the special care ward of the hospital from Thursday until Sunday afternoon. He is improving and is undergoing further tests.

Around The Town

Former Canyon residents were in town over the weekend, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Stoker, and children Paul, Cindy, and Bryan, drove up from Austin to Lubbock, where Fred spoke on Saturday morning and then on to Canyon to visit with their many friends here. Betty taught first grade in Canyon and Fred was with the Education Dept. at the college before going to Austin to work as Asst. Director of Teacher Education for the State.

Dale Killingsworth's sister, Lucille Crosby, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Killingsworth, all formerly of Canyon and now living in Gentry, Ark., were here visiting Dale and the family. Coupled with a letter from Jimmy Dale saying he had arrived safely in Viet Nam, their presence made a happy time for all.

Weldon and Ida Hager had Weldon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hager of Ada, Oklahoma as their guests over the weekend.

We are all happy to hear that Jim Cowart is improving at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, but as usual with near tragedy, there was a light touch. Jim went into a coma on Thursday night about 6 and did not regain consciousness until about 7 the next night. His anxious parents, Pete and Rosa stood by his bed during the 25 hour vigil, and when at last Jim opened his eyes and saw them he said, "Hello, thanks for coming by."

The Weldon Brights and their children, Diane and Kim, are moving to Phoenix, Arizona from Amarillo, where Weldon will be teaching private piano and organ, and also playing the organ at a restuarant during dinner hours. Having them in Phoenix will be especially welcome to Irene's sister and mother, Sara Thompson, and Mrs. Clara Thompson who live in Tucson, where Sara teaches school.

Mrs. John Grissom (nee Freda Gill) former Canyon resident and member of W.T.'s class of '35, drove from her home in El Paso early this month and picked up her mother Mrs. R. E. Gill of Canyon and her aunt, Mrs. Frank Burgin of Groom. They drove to Excelcior, Missouri to revisit their former home for the first time in 55 years. There were some changes of course, but many familiar landmarks were still there, such as the old mill and grinding stone that Mrs. Gill's and Mrs. Burgin's father had built and operated. They brought their father's sister back with them, and she remained in Groom for a visit and Mrs. Grissom returned to El Paso after a short visit in Canyon.

The Bob Hardys had her parents as their guests this past weekend. Mrs. Hardy reports that her parents, the D.A. Bills of Paris, Texas were pleasantly impressed with Canyon, both in its physical beauty and the many cultural advantages found here.

Janet Blasedel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Musselman of Quincy, Illinois have been visiting the Blasedels this week. They left on Tuesday.

Well, next weekend is homecoming, and we will be relying on all of you to tell us of your homecoming activities--- especially old friends and classmates who are here. Have a nice weekend.

Study Club Sees Film On Government

The Canyon Study Club met in the film room of the W.T. Library on Tuesday, October 9, to see the film, "The Federal Government -- Its Plan of Organization." Following the film presentation, members divided into smaller groups and discused the advantages of having three main branches in our Federal Government, as opposed to having one central authority.

Discussion continued on the checks and balances exercised by the Legislative, Executive and Judicial branches on each other. The program was concluded as the Study Club reviewed areas of our life controlled by the Federal government and that which is reserved to the states. This was the second in a series of programs on "A Government of the People."

At the conclusion of the business meeting and program, members and guests went to the home of Mrs. Lynn Blewtt of 2401, 11th Ave. for refreshments and fellowship. Guests were interviewed as though they were "V.I.P.'s", with club members acting as the "Press."

Mrs. Roland O'Donald was in charge of the program, and hostesses were Mrs. Blewett, Mrs. Charles Brasher and Mrs. Bobby Byrd. Mrs. Walter Cramner was in charge of entertainment. Other members attending were Mesdames Elton Cox, Dick Dawdy, Ronnie Isham, David Lipscomb, Gordon Williams, Tom Wright and Bill York.

Special club guests were Mesdames Bruce Campbell, James Ma, W. S. Burum, Gilbert Irlbeck, Benny Cooper, Clark Miers and Doug Galloway.

District President Talks Before Canyon Club Women

Occasion was the annual federation day dinner staged by Canyon's four organizations, Canyon Study Club, Junior Woman's Book Club, Sue Hite Club and Women's Book Club.

Mistress of ceremonies for the evening was Mrs. Eugene Bonds, president of the host group, Junior Woman's Book Club. Decorations on a fall theme were provided by the Canyon Study Club.

A hat show, in which those present were the "milliners" and "models," was directed by the Women's Book Club. Prizes were given to creators of the most fashionable chapeau, the best sports hat, and the prettiest garden bonnet.

Vocal music was presented by WAM Moore, accompanied at the piano by Gene Murray. Invocation was given by Mrs. R.D. Wheelock.

Club presidents introduced their officers and members as follows: Women's Book Club, Mrs. Joseph Findley; Sue Hite Study Club, Mrs. Wheelock; Canyon Study Club, Mrs. Gordon Williams; and Junior Woman's Book Club, Mrs. Bonds.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. A.W. Lair, a state officer; Mesdames Bob Lindsey, R.A. Neblett and F.R. Phillips, district officers. Honorary club members, in absentia, were also recognized.

Speaker Mrs. Morris, a registered nurse, has been in clubwork many years in Canadian. She gave the group a resume of the history of federation in Texas, bowing to various outstanding persons, both men and women, who have figured prominently in the federation.

"Those who scoff at the achievements of clubwomen," Mrs. Morris pointed out, "would be surprised at the many projects in which they actually are influential."

She went on to enumerate some improvements in the state for which federated clubs are at least partially responsible. These included helping enact child labor laws, equal pay for women, Pure Foods and Drugs Act, promoting home demonstration clubs, teaching of home economics and music in public schools and the extension program of Texas A & M College.

The Texas federation, she continued, aided in the passing of compulsory education laws, encouraged conservation of our natural resources, provides various scholarship funds, sponsors CARE, and introduced the book review as a means of entertainment.

Mrs. Morris commented that when federation was first divided into districts, Texas had five districts; there are now 13.

Old Grads Will Find Campus Much Changed

It will be a drastically changed campus for ex-students of the 1947-51 era, when hundreds of them trek back here Saturday to West Texas State College for class reunions.

The campus change can be taken in stride however, for it was students of these years who gave the college its first postwar enrollment boom.

Liberally sprinkled among the returning exes are veterans of World War II who experienced the crowded conditions on a campus which had virtually become a girls' school during the war.

So crowded were housing conditions when the bulk of these students were in school that double-deck bunks completely filled the playing floor of old Burton Gymnasium, a structure since razed, and married veterans lived in hastily moved-in barracks from the Hereford prisoner-of-war camp.

This weekend returning exes will once again experience the atmosphere of a college brimming over with a record enrollment. A half-dozen new dormitories have pushed the boundaries of the campus outward, and foundations mark the spot where two additional dormitories will open next fall.

Leading the activities of returning students are four class presidents: Jack Andrews of Irving, 1947; Dawson Little of Amarillo, 1948; Dr. Jim Bill Caldwell of Dallas, 1950; and Lonnie Seaman of Dallas, 1951.

Howard Moore of Sumpter, S.C. 1949 president, will not be present, but E.W. Woods of Amarillo, class vice president will serve as official class representative.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

By Mary Caballero

Is the day of "action painting" on the way out? This past year very few extreme works of art were shown in Life or other magazines that feature current trends of sensational fads. We really had been given an over dose of grotesque action painting a few years ago.

Desire for novelty is always present in the human mind. Reactions against prettiness too often lead to a feeling of contempt for conventions at the expense of those agreeable qualities of design that endeared themselves to the public eye in all the past.

A New York writer now says that to establish a new art form, "all you need is one or two wealthy clients who can be persuaded to buy an action painting (action painting is indescribable). The customers need not like the canvas, the dealer says; all they need to do is hang it and invite their friends -- along with one or two reporters whom the dealer can supply -- to come and see what a discovery they have made. In a status-seeking world, one sucker can make a market." (From Roger Burlingame -- Is Abstract Art A Private Joke?)

You do run into those who will explain the "whole thing" to you. The paintings have names, such as, "Landscape," "Autumn" and the usual, but the viewer can't find the subject matter. It is hidden somewhere. The artist has kept this a secret in his "inner soul" --

You are suppose to gain pleasure from an action painting? It is a terrible insult to teli the artist that you think his work of art is pretty. Cute never fits! The true response should be one of being absolutely disturbed by the whole thing. (Most people are truly disturbed by the thing as no doubt the artist had intended in the first place!)

What you should really feel about this type of work, is that it is not meant to be understood. You can probably paint a few yourself. Get a large canvas and really let yourself go. I guess this may be the reason they are called action paintings. No doubt there are teachers you can hire to show you how to get more "action."

When the dealer can no longer find a lucrative market among other "action" painters, then he must look among the status seekers and the faddist who must be a part of the "arty group." Who knows? This may be good for their neurosis.

Did you see the joke in Look showing the artist who was calling on his analyst ---- he had a sad look on his face and said, "I am beginning to see what I paint!"

Oh yes, action painting is slipping. Fewer worms are painting and paintings by chimpazees have been marked down to $9.95 so that more people can purchase these rare works!

Resuscitator Ordered For Emergency Group

The City of Canyon has ordered its resuscitator for the Emergency Unit of the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department.

Joe Rice, Captain of the firemen, said the resuscitator will be able to help the breathing of two persons at once. It also has an asperator which draws fluids from the lungs and throat of an accident victim as in the case of drownings or internal bleeding, he said.

The resuscitator should get here in three or four weeks, Rice said. He added that the names of all the civic organizations who helped pay for the unit will be printed on its carrying case.

"The civic clubs have donated the money to pay for the unit. It's a pretty expensive piece of equipment, and the Emergency Unit of the fire department couldn't have handled it by themselves," Rice said. Cost of the unit is $550, he said.

"It will be the only portable unit in Randall County and will be available to anyone at anytime, who has stopped breathing," he said.

Rice also said that the city will take bids next Monday night on a new station wagon to carry the resuscitator. The station wagon will be paid for half and half by the city and the volunteer fire department he said.

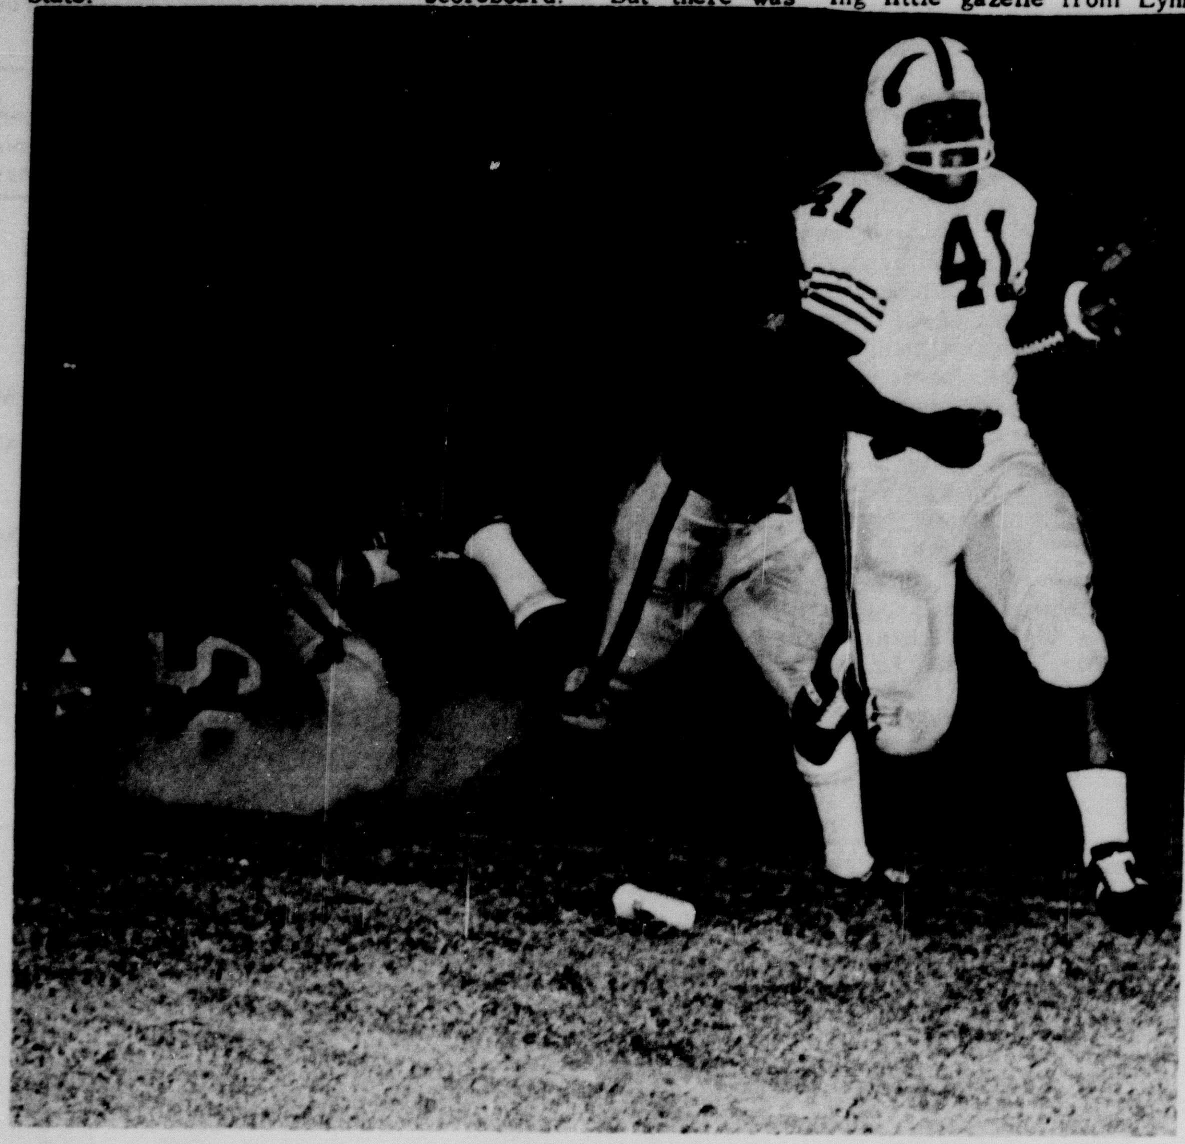
Wow! Buffs 15 - Devils 14

By TROY MARTIN

Big, Bad, Buffalo Bull Russell Mundy curbed the Sun Devils' tackling appetite Saturday night as he sparked his team to a 15-14 win over Arizona State.

It was the pass catching ability of Jerry Richardson, the ball hawking, heel-showing of Jerry Don Logan, the two-point play out of a hat by Joe Kerbel that put the markers on the scoreboard. But there was little doubt in the minds of those who saw the game that Russell Mundy was the wheel hoss.

All year the Devils had prepared to defense the scintillating little gazelle from Lynn, Massachusetts. They simply were not prepared for the Tiger Tank that broke upon them in the last half of the ball game at Tempe.



The man who bit the dust is Arizona State's center, Stetzar. The man trying to make the tackle probably is Milliron, a Devil fullback.

The man with the ball is WT's Buffalo Bull, Russell Mundy. Mundy was chief ground gainer in the game.

Mundy carried the ball nine times for 62 bone-shattering yards in the final West Texas ball-control drive. This ran his total to 137 yards for the contest. This is almost three times the average Arizona State had been allowing against them per game before they met the Buffaloes.

Mundy also turned in a fine job of blocking. His performance brought him the Quarterback Club award, an oak leaf cluster for "the meanest gun of the week."

Thrill of the game, of course, came in the third quarter.

Foster fumbled a Logan punt on the Arizona State 3 and then the Sun Devils drove 94 yards in 18 plays.

It was fourth down and the Devils were only three yards from a commanding lead that might have sewed up the game when, Jacobs dropped back and tossed a pass toward team mate Kellar.

In Kellar's place was Jerry Don Logan. He snatched the aerial on his own 1 and the partisan crowd of more than 27,000 watched in stunned silence as the fleet Graham halfback shook off three tacklers and went the distance.

Coach Kerbel turned his back on an almost certain tie from Logan's toe and called for the "go for broke play" that his team had been rehearsing all season. Jim Dawson flipped to Logan for the two points that gave the Buffs a win.

"I wasn't interested in a tie and I never will be," said tough Joe Kerbel after the game. "We had them tied when we got out here."

Logan's ball theft was the second of the period and the third of the game for the Buffaloes. When he picked off Jacob's pass there was only 59 seconds left in the third quarter.

Arizona State's drive just prior to the Logan run opened on the Sun Devil 3 after Gene Foster fumbled a WT punt. The drive was marked by some hard running by Larry Todd and Henry Carr and a spectacular pass play from Todd to Lorick which carried the ball to the Buff 3.

Arizona State drew first blood in the opening quarter. The Devils brought a scoring march to completion moving 61 yards on nine plays capped by a 10-yard pass from Quarterback John Jacobs to Larry Todd in the end zone. Passing keyed the entire drive with Jacobs hitting Keller for 18, Locke for 13 and Todd for the final 9.

It was a night of boo boos for both teams in the first half. Each team lost the ball twice on fumbles and once on interceptions.

In the second period, the Sun Devils scored again. The combination Jacobs to Locke for a second nine yard scoring play upped the Devil lead to 14-0 with 5:20 remaining in the first half.

It was beginning to look like a long ride home for the Buffaloes.

The West Texans struck back with swiftness of the rattler of their native Plains country. Quarterback Jim Dawson directed the Buffs to a 60-yard scoring drive that took only five plays.

Dawson hit Logan with a 10-yard pass and following two line bucks, found Jerry Richardson wide open on the Arizona 10 and the Buff halfback from Umbarger breezed in for a score. Logan's conversion cut the Arizona lead to 14-7.

The Devils, a team that played Washington to a 24-24 tie the previous week, never regained heart after the run by Logan.

A final ASU drive in the fourth quarter sputtered at midfield with a little over half of the final period gone. For all practical purposes, the ball game was finished.

The Buffs beat the Sun Devils by score in the third quarter. They beat them physically in the fourth quarter. As the game ended the Buffs were on the ASU 6 yard line.

Sporting some of the fastest backs in the nation, the Sun Devils were worthy opponents for the Buffaloes. It was guts, strategy, the will to win and a little luck that finally paid off for the Buffaloes.

Few spectators doubted that the Sun Devils had submitted to the Buffs by the time the game ended.

They went their unbeaten, untied way in spite of several considerable handicaps. The biggest setback was the inability of little Pete Pedro to participate due to a leg injury suffered in the Arlington State game.

If Kerbel ever gave up hope that he could field the little speedster right up to game time, those close to him never guessed it.

A physician attended Pedro in Albuquerque and Pete worked out briefly. He suited up at Tempe.

Chances are good that his 621 yard rushing figure still will remain tops in the nation this week in spite of the fact that he missed a game. Brigham Young's Eldon Fortie was almost 100 yards behind him last week.

Logan scored an additional nine points Saturday night which probably is enough to maintain his hold on the national lead.

Along The Sideline

Texas Tech had another scrimmage Saturday. This time they worked out with TCU. The Froggies beat them 35 to 13 and there is talk that Polk Robison will drop them from the Raider schedule.

He's looking for someone worthy of Red Raider steel. We strongly suggest that Mr. Robison try Vassar, an Eastern girls' school. We feel almost certain that Vassar would post no worse win-loss record than the Red Raiders have so far this season.

We've run into some of the most ridiculous suggestions this year. We have heard of nothing more ridiculous than the attack on Ray Franks and Coach Joe Kerbel for not telling Arizona State that Pete Pedro wouldn't be in Saturday night's game.

Kerbel's mother didn't raise a stupid son. He was under no more obligation to tell Arizona that his swiftest back wouldn't be in the lineup Saturday night than he was to call Coach Frank Cush and tell him that Jim Dawson would pass to Jerry Don Logan for two points instead of taking a cinch tie with a Logan kick.

***

Back in the motel Saturday night, we asked Kerbel why he chose a "go for broke" play to win instead of taking the almost cinch point after kick and settling for a tie.

It made the Buff Coach about half angry to be asked such a question.

"We were tied when we came out here," he snapped. "Don't even suggest a tie to me. It might affect my thinking some time."

We appreciate words like that. Here's an attitude the whole darned country could use. We don't like tie ball games either. We'd rather get licked trying to win than to take a tie lying down.

Earlier in the evening, we saw reaffirmed something we already knew. Joe Kerbel will not be intimidated. He crossed swords with an ugly crowd at the stadium and held his own.

We have talked to folks who made the trip to Tempe in previous years and learned that being nasty is a habit with

Canyon Eagles Strike Rattlers With Shutout

By Gary Lee

Canyon's Eagles improved their standing Friday night by putting down Stinnett with a score of 26 to 0.

Ronny Brock, Eagle guard, started the Rattlers striking as he returned the first kickoff 20 yards before being brought down.

Harry Lisle, halfback, hustled 40 yards for the Eagles. Davis Price quarterback, picked up 5 more yards for Canyon.

Donald Breitling, quarterback, came in the game to make 7 yards for the Eagles. Lisle made 1 more yard, and Breitling managed the other 2 yards for the first score of the game early in the first quarter. The extra point failed.

The Stinnett Rattlers took over on the kick, and Marvin Hawthorn, fullback, made 18 yards before Brock made the stop.

Lisle intercepted a Rattler pass and returned it 20 yards before Bobby Bain, quarterback made the tackle. Lisle ran again and this time for 7 yards.

Riemer was on the spot to intercept an Eagle pass and returned it just 3 yards before Preston Prichard, tackle, made the stop.

Bobby Dodd, halfback, made 3 yards for the Rattlers before Eagle Ronny Brock got the tackle. Mike Waters, halfback, gained 1 yard before Prichard made the stop.

Riemer broke loose and gained 10 yards before Breitling stopped him. Riemer broke loose and gained 10 yards before Breitling and Hutton, tackle, made the tackle.

Bain connected with Dodd with a pass good for 25 yards, and Jim Whinnery, halfback, made the stop for the Eagles.

Bain attempted another pass but Bill Phillips, Eagle fullback, threw him for a 10 yard loss. Riemer stepped off 20 yards for Stinnett before Eagle Harry Lisle made the stop.

Bain lost 4 more yards by the courtesy of Phillips. The Rattlers were on the Eagles' 7 yard line, but they gained only 3 yards out of their 4 downs, and the Eagles took over.

Lisle carried twice good for a total of 9 yards. Price went to work and made 15 yards for the Eagles. Vance made 2 yards for Canyon. Lisle carried again, but Hawthorn caught him behind the line for a 2 yard loss.

The Eagles were forced to punt, and Tim White, Eagle tackle, got off a bad punt that rolled back to the line of scrimmage. The Rattlers made no yardage in 4 downs, and they were forced to punt. Bain did the kicking, and his aim was out of bounds on the Eagle 10 yard line.

The Eagles failed to move the ball in their 4 downs, and Lisle got off a good punt for 35 yards. Reimer carried for 5 yards for the Rattlers before Brock got the tackle.

Whinnery rushed Bain on a pass attempt and threw him for a 5 yard loss. The Rattlers punted again, and the Eagles took over. Waters was tackled by Brock after a 2 yard gain.

Riemer made 4, and Bain made 10, but after this they didn't move the ball, and the Eagles took over. Don Rhode, end, made 5 yards for the Eagles with the help of Price on a pass. Price and Whinnery teamed up on an optional, and it paid off 20 yards.

Price and Vance made 2 yards each for the Eagles. The Rattlers took over on an Eagle punt, and it was Riemer for 5 yards, Dodd for 5, and Riemer again for 6 before Brock made the tackles.

Riemer carried again for 3 yards, and Bain lost yardage, and the first half of the game had ended with the score 6 to 0. The Rattlers took possession on the kick-off and Brock stopped Riemer after a gain of 4 yards.

Dodd carried the ball 5 yards before being stopped by Joe Kerbel, Eagle center. Riemer again for 2, and Brock made the stop. The Rattlers punted, and Whinnery made a 10 yard return. Whinnery carried again for 5 yards.

Price hit Poole, end, with a pass good for 15 yards. Price carried for 5 yards and made a first-in-ten for Canyon. It was Vance three times in a row for a total of 15 yards.

Price hit Lisle with a pass good for 9 yards. Whinnery carried for 5 yards. Price carried for 4. Lisle broke loose for 17 yards and a touchdown for the Eagles. The extra point was no good.

Stinnett took over on the kick-off. They couldn't move the ball and were forced to punt.

The Eagles took over, and it was Lisle to Poole for 50 yards on a pass. Vance couldn't move the ball; then Lisle scored, but it was called back on a clipping penalty. Vance picked up 7 yards. Price made 7 yards. Lisle pitched to Whinnery good for 12 yards.

Phillips made 3 yards for the Eagles. It was Phillips again for 4 yards and a touchdown on the first play of the last quarter. The extra point was not good. Stinnett took over on the kick, but failed to move the ball. They made 9 yards and were forced to punt.

Evans, halfback, was good for 4 yards for Canyon. Vance made 5. Then Lisle made 7. Whinnery picked up 5 for the Eagles. Price hit Lisle with a 30 yard pass, and Lisle went 50 more yards for an 80 yard touchdown. The extra point was good for 2 points.

The Rattlers took over on the kick, but they lost a total of 5 yards in three plays and were forced to punt. Price returned the Stinnett punt 15 yards. Julian Berry, Eagle guard, opened up a hole for Evans who made 15 yards. It was Evans again for 8 then for 5.

Looney intercepted a pass from Price and returned it 5 yards for the Rattlers. The Rattlers made pass attempts but all were imcompletions, and they punted.

The Eagles failed to move the ball and punted back to the Rattlers.

Jimmy Hooper, end, was nailed by Brock on a pass, and the ball was lost. Dodd carried, and White made the last tackle of the game. The final score was Canyon 26, Stinnett 0.

Eagles Meet Lockney In Homecoming Battle

Friday night the Eagles will play their first conference game and their homecoming game against the undefeated Longhorns of Lockney.

The Lockney Longhorns have played six games: Dimmitt, Olton, Post, Ralls, Hale Center, Slaton. Out of these six games have come six victories for the Longhorns, and they will be after their seventh this Friday.

Eagle head coach, E. J. Webb, said that Lockney has good size and plenty of speed. He also said that they have run most of the time this year, but the Lockney coach said they have an excellent passer.

Coach Webb said that Lockney has a very good team, and they have eight offensive starters back and nine defensive starters back.

Webb said that he felt like the Eagles are capable of beating the Longhorns, but they will have to be ready, mentally and physically, and they will have to play the entire game, not just the second half.

Bob Begert will not be playing again this week because of a knee injury, but the rest of the lineup will be about the same except Davis Price will be at a halfback slot some.

B Team In Loss 40 -14 To Dalhart

The Eagle "B" team played Dalhart there Thursday to be defeated by a score of 40 to 14.

"B" team coach, Bobby Byrd, said the team played pretty good as a whole, but Dalhart had a good team and many substitutes.

Coach Byrd said the three boys who did the scoring were Wolson Howard who scored 6 points, Randy Buttrill who scored 6 points, and Jody Richardson who scored 2 points.

Freshmen Trounce Wolves

The Eagle freshmen team defeated the Dalhart Wolves there Thursday by a score of 44 to 22.

Freshman coach, Allan Simpson, said he felt like the boys played very well. Simpson said the two outstanding players were Gary Winters in the backfield and James Stritzel on the line.

The scoring was done by Gary Winters who scored 20 points, Wayne Brewer who scored 8 points, Dennis Haley who scored 12 points, Larry Robinson who scored 2 points, and Bruce Winn who scored 2 points.

fans in Arizona.

One fan is reported to have come down to the bench wielding a stretcher. We strongly advise against this procedure while Kerbel is in charge.

The man who comes in with a stretcher on Kerbel stands an excellent chance of being carried away on it.

***

"The coach is right," Officer D. Brower of the Phoenix police department told us at half time. Brower was very courteous. He was just forlorn about the whole thing. He had to stand with his back to the ball game and face the crowd.

"I won't even get to see one play next half," he declared with dejection.

Incidentally, Kerbel is a Marine captain who has battle stars from the Pacific campaign. His Marine spunk and "never give an inch" attitude have stood him in good stead on the gridiron.

"I don't want to be drafted," Joe told Frances when World War II broke out. "I want to volunteer and get in the toughest outfit we have."

He chose the Marine Corps and the Corps chose him. He went to officer candidate school and was graduated near the head of his class. He even played football for the corps.

He still is an officer in the Marine reserve.

Kerbel has boundless energy. He puts in unbelievable hours. While others relaxed last week in Arizona following the game, Kerbel was busy making plans for his weekly TV show.

Back in Amarillo, he didn't go home as others did. He was hustled off to the television station. If you've ever been under TV lights, you know an hour there is work.

Once in Canyon, he hurried to his office where he met his secretary and they prepared the BAM Club brochure so it could be mailed Monday.

Seven o'clock most mornings finds Kerbel in his office. Normally he is working there or at home when the clock strikes midnight.

Kerbel is a stickler for detail. At practice he watches the whole field making notes as he does so.

Discipline among the players is near perfect. We were impressed with their good behavior on the Arizona trip. There was no loud talk or rowdyism en route or at the motel in Tempe.

Another passenger on the plane remarked at the gentlemanly deportment of the Buffs. H.A. White, Medina, O., school superintendent, told Joe in Tucson that he had never seen a team as well behaved as the Buffaloes.

Furthermore, he said he planned to go back to his school in Ohio and tell the team representing his school that it should follow the example of West Texas State.

***

One of the strangest things about the trip to Arizona, was the fact that the attitude of the fans was in such sharp contrast to courteous helpfulness of Arizona State officials.

Frank Rispoli, with the athletic director's office, couldn't have done more for guests in his own home. After meeting Frank and enjoying his hospitality, we weren't prepared for the near lynch mob in the stands Saturday night.

ANSWERS FROM
MR. ROGERS
People want to know why Mr. Rogers refuses to answer the questions about his voting record. People continue to ask why he voted for a farm bill to enslave the farmers, why he voted for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, why he voted to increase the national debt limit to $308 billion, and why he has consistently supported the New Frontier's plans for increasing bureaucracy and wasteful spending. When, if ever, will he give answers instead of generalities?

News Notes From The

RANDALL COUNTY FARM BUREAU

We are doing real good on renewal of memberships this year. The count now stands at 457 with only 23 short of our 1962 quota of 480 members for Randall County. We still have 7 renewal memberships outstanding in September and 18 outstanding for October. The efforts of your Directors in contacting these people along with your mailing in your renewal membership should easily put Randall County over the top.

Don't forget the Randall County Annual Convention on Resolutions to be directed to the State Convention at San Antonio will be held here at the Farm Bureau Office on Thursday, October 18th at 8:00 PM. Your presence is requested, and your advice of these proposed Resolutions is needed by your Board of Directors. The Board of Directors also hopes you will propose a Resolution of your own at this meeting. All policies of the Farm Bureau stem from the membership at the County level. Please be present and express your views on Thursday, October 18th.

Some USDA forecasts taken from the American Farm Bureau Official News Letter dated October 15, 1962: Rising prices, record costs, a big harvest, a mixed business picture, and a USDA prediction that farm incomes may be lower in 1963 highlight the current commodity outlook. Farm prices rose almost 21/2 percent during the month ending on September 15th, the highest September level since 1958. Farm costs reached a record September peak of 307 percent of the 1910-14 average, an increase of about one percent. Lower net farm income in 1963 is now predicted by USDA. Production expenses, wages, taxes, and interest costs are expected to continue their long-time upward climb while gross farm income remains at the present level of about $40 billion a year.

The farm export picture continues favorable, as the 1961-62 fiscal year ending on June 30 showed all-time peak shipments of $5.1 billion and July, the first month of the new fiscal year, spotted a 25 percent increase over a year ago. Domestic demand for food and fiber should continue strong as some improvement is expected in business activity during the next few months. For the longer pull there is some doubt, as the economy lacks pep. We, in Agriculture, have our problems with interpretation of USDA reports, and procedures. We realize also that the USDA, too, has its troubles with the questions and reports received from us. We read a letter the other day which we enjoyed enough to pass on. We believe this sums up the situation on both sides. This letter is supposed to have been written to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Dear Secretary:

My friend Bordeaux over in Terrebonne Parish received a $1000 check from the government this year for not raising hogs. So I am going into the not-raising-hogs business this year. What I want to know is, in your opinion, what is the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on and the best kind of hogs not to raise? I would prefer not to raise razorbacks, but if that is not a good breed not to raise, I will just as gladly not raise any Berkshires or Durocs.

The hardest work in this business is going to be in keeping an inventory of how many hogs I haven't raised. My friend Bordeaux is very joyful about the future of this business. He has been raising hogs for 20 years and best he has ever made was $400 until this year when he got $1000 for not raising hogs. If I can get $1000 for not raising 50 hogs then I will get $2000 for not raising 100 hogs.

I plan to operate on a small scale at first, holding myself down to about 4,000 hogs which means I will have $80,000. Now another thing, these hogs that I will not raise will not eat 100,000 bushels of corn. I understand that you also pay farmers for not raising corn, so will you pay me anything for not raising 100,000 bushels of corn not to feed the hogs I am not raising?

Octave Boussard,
Louisiana

P.S. Can I raise 10 or 12 hogs on the side while I am in the not-raising-hogs business - just enough to get a few sides of bacon to eat.

Scout Fund Drive Set Next Week

Monty Stokes, Assistant Council Executive of the Llano Estacado Council of the Boy Scouts of America, said final plans for the Annual Boy Scout Finance Campaign were completed last Monday at a meeting of 33 captains and majors. The meeting was held in the Canyon High School Cafeteria.

Stokes said the Finance Campaign will be started at a luncheon to be held in the American Legion Hall next Monday, at 12:10 p.m. Chairman of this year's drive is Joe Gibson of Canyon, he said.

Stokes said the money raised in this campaign will provide training for volunteer leaders in the techniques of cub scouting, boy scouting and explorer scouting. The money will also provide for organizing new scout units, so that more boys can become scouts, he added.

In addition, the funds will provide for activities that will lend glamour and meaning to the program, he said.

Stokes said funds from the campaign will provide for operation of a boy scout camp that will enable all scouts in the area to have camping experiences at a nominal cost.

About 140 volunteer workers will be contacting about 700 people in Canyon between Monday noon, October 22 and Tuesday noon, October 23, he said.

Stokes added that at a meeting of scout executives last Monday, it was brought out that there are a group of people in Canyon who are sustaining members of the Boy Scouts of America. He said this means they have authorized the Boy Scout Council to draw drafts on their bank account for at least $1 per month.

Stokes said this group forms the "backbone" of the financing of the Boy Scout program of Canyon. He added that during the Boy Scout Campaign which starts next Monday, each person, when contacted, will be given the opportunity to become a sustaining member of the Boy Scouts of America.

personal extension phones

SAVE MOTHER'S TIME, ENERGY AND DISPOSITION

Personal extension phones bring the calls to her, where she is—kitchen, bedroom or family living area. Save her steps, actually help her do two things at once (call the cleaner while she looks after baby). At night she enjoys the security, privacy and peace of mind of a phone at her bedside. And personal extension phones come in colors to suit every mother's good taste.

Who needs extension phone service most?

Families that make or receive five or more calls a day.

Families with one or more members active in school, church, civic or club work.

Families with active, popular teenagers or young adults.

If any of these conditions fit your family, the chances are you need extension phone service.

To order your personal extension phones—Princess, wall or table models—call the telephone business office, or ask any telephone serviceman. Why not order yours today?

Kerbel said afterward that he felt at the time that it was the intention of some of the fans to intimidate the Buffalo football team.

"We weren't going to let them do it," he said.

"The coach was right," said Officer Brower of the Phoenix Police Department.

By a quirk, the theme of the half time show was PEACE. Members of the Arizona State band released symbolic white doves.

Civil Air Patrol planes, Highway Patrol, Randall County Sheriff's Department and the Canyon Emergency Unit converged on the scene within minutes.

Cause of the crash was not determined. The white and gold Moony four-place aircraft had crashed into the ground at a steep angle. It apparently did not flip or burn. The propeller was buried deeply in the ground with only the bent tips showing.

The plane's four cylinder continental engine was pushed far back into the cockpit. The instrument panel was completely disintegrated with heavy instruments and other parts spread over the plowed field.

CAP officials theorized that dirt on the engine had prevented gasoline from the ruptured fuel tanks from burning. All safety belts excepting the pilot's had burst when the plane hit the ground. The plane's tachometer showed the plane had only 68 hours of flying time.

Sheriff's deputies had to cut the top loose and fold it back in order to remove the bodies. They were mutilated beyond recognition. Sheriff Johnson said Dr. R. P. Jarrett of Canyon pronounced the men dead. The bodies were taken to Postom Funeral Home in Panhandle.

"Yep, it's so well-improved, I've gotta sell to pay fer the improvements!"

W.E. Glenn is shown with some of the game bird watering devices and feeders on his ranch near Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Glenn's efforts toward improving wildlife habitaton on his land have brought big results.

GradRecord Exam Here Nov. 17

Graduate Record Examinations, which are required by many graduate schools for admission or for granting of assistantships and fellowships, will be given Nov. 17 at West Texas State College.

Charles E. Wright, associate professor of biology and director of testing, said that applications for the exams must be sent by the student applying to the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N.J. Deadline for the applications for the Nov. 17 test will be Nov. 2, he said.

Information and applications may be picked up from Wright in the Science Building. Students desiring to take the test may also write for applications to the New Jersey office.

Senior students, and others expecting to seek admission to graduate schools, and those hoping to apply for graduate fellowships for next year, should take the test Nov. 17, Wright said.

"Since test scores are usually necessary with applications for fellowships, it will be too late to take the examinations after the fall semester," he said.

The examinations will be repeated at WT Jan. 19 and again April 27.

HUNTING, FISHING AND CONSERVATION

We are going to try and balance our coverage in Prairie Wildlife so that we give equal time to hunting, fishing and conservation because we feel the three are inseparable and contribute to each other's benefit.

Since we wrote about hunting last week, this week let us tell the readers about some conservation -- specifically about a conservationist. His name is E. W. Glenn.

Glenn is a rancher of 20 years who runs his spread near Palo Duro Canyon State Park. In fact, Glenn's ranch has no east fence. It borders on the west upper rim of the deep canyon.

Over a period of years, Glenn has planted a series of curved fence rows on his land, using fruit and ornamental trees. He plants them in deep furrows about ten feet apart and several hundred yards long. His plantings include such exotic trees as Russian olive, desert willow, mimosa and dogwood; mostly trees that one would associate with a more southern climate.

Glenn has planted the hardier trees such as the desert willow and Russian olive on the outside of the fence rows. They give protection and shade to the more tender trees in the middle.

The long fence rows provide living cover and food for many types of wildlife that normally would be hard put to find existence on the windy prairie. They provide a place where the local wildlife can gain some measure of shade in summer and protection from cold winds in winter.

The fence rows provide browse for turkey and deer, as well as grain and weed seed for the smaller game birds. The leaves of the trees and grasses that shoot up around their trunks provide material and cover in which to build nests and rear next year's young. The overhanging trees provide cover from predatory birds and the weeds slow the search of the hungry coyote and fox.

"I remember one big old tom who came strutting through the fields all by himself when the trees we planted were just a few feet high. He walked through the plantings, looking them over. It wasn't a week before he was back with five hens," Glenn said.

All in all, the wildlife habitat improvements on the Glenn Ranch are a worthy project for any conservation minded farmer or rancher who would like to see wildlife increases on his land.

Fence row plantings like Glenn's also help the general appearance of the land and add a tremendous amount of color when trees like the mimosa and dogwood are in bloom. This should please the little lady.

In addition to the tree plantings, Glenn has planted oats and barley near the fence rows to provide additional browse and grazing. Watering troughs, set under the trees and in the brush, offer water to game birds without exposing them to predation on the open prairie.

Glenn will proudly point out several brush piles made of piled tree limbs and weeds. He will probably apologize for their untidy appearance but he hastens to explains that these brush piles, and the weeds that he has allowed to grow in them, give shelter and food to many groups of the smaller game birds. On the open prairie, especially where most of the land has been cultivated, there is precious little cover for game birds.

Glenn added that he couldn't say how many broods of quail had been raised in these brush piles.

Glenn told us, with no trace of self-esteem, that if half the landowners in the Panhandle would do similiar habitat improvements on their land, that wildlife populations in the Panhandle would be in much better shape than they are. As most Panhandlers know, quail populations in the Panhandle leave something to be desired.

We were reminded that Prairie Wildlife has the potential for becoming the voice of Randall County sportsmen and conservationists. With this in mind, we pass the above along to our readers with the hope that Prairie Wildlife will not only serve to inform them, but will give them cause to think and comment. Our readers can consider this an invitation to chew the fat with us about Prairie Wildlife and its related fields.

EXCITING! GO '63 CHEVY II
Nova 4-Door Station Wagon
SPUNKY NEW WAGONS THAT LEAD LONGER, HAPPIER LIVES
What a new kick you'll get out of going places in this one! And what a solvent feeling you'll get as the savings on upkeep mount! There's a full line of models, including three wagons. Basically, we've kept Chevy II's liveliness and roominess and easy loading ways. Kept its crisp looks, too (with a bit of freshening here and there). The changes we've made weren't for change's sake, you see—but for yours. Just for a sample: the brakes are self-adjusting. The new Delcotron generator gives you more electrical reserve power and helps your battery reach a vigorous old age. The Body by Fisher beauty lasts longer, too; air pushes rain and wash water down through the rocker panels (where most rust begins!) in a clever new flush-and-dry system. The ride is smoother and quieter because of a large number of small improvements we've made. And things are a lot plushier inside. Now you've read this far, haven't you? Isn't that good evidence that Chevy II is made for you? The clincher will come when you take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Buff Football Players Relax on Plane. In front is Johnny Varnell. In the rear are from left Jim Dawson and Woody Gilliland. Players slept and studied most of the way to and from Tempe.

Buffs Never Doubted

By Troy Martin

Every seat was taken as the big TWA plane lumbered into the sky Friday afternoon.

Take off had been delayed about 15 minutes because of pressure building up in one of the wing tanks. Aboard was the West Texas State College Buffalo football team.

With the team were several fans and two newspapermen, representing the Canyon and Amarillo newspapers.

"Welcome aboard," said Miss Elizabeth Massey, one of three charming hostesses. "We especially welcome that handsome WT team."

Miss Massey is from Tulia and is a West Texas State graduate.

Canyon folks on the plane were A. W. Lair, Wesley Cox and Dale Martin. Jess Tucker from Amarillo also made the trip with the team.

Dee Ann Stephens of Birmingham, Ala., had gotten on the plane in Oklahoma and was en route to Albuquerque.

Miss Stephens is a national officer of Delta Zeta Sorority and had visited often in Canyon. She is a friend of Mrs. Kermit Ponds and inquired about her.

Buff team members were surprised when they reached Albuquerque to be met by a battery of photographers, including newsreel men from the local TV stations. It turned out that the Buffs had been mistaken for Utah State, the team that made an appearance there Sautrday night.

The team worked out for a half hour or more at the University of New Mexico. Word spread over the campus and lookers on all wanted to know which one was Pistol Pete.

"He's a legend around here," declared Buckey Stallings, a member of the university football team.

Everyone was acquainted by the time the party took off at 6 o'clock for the lap into Tucson and then to Phoenix.

Conversation revealed that Miss Massey graduated from WT in 1957 with a degree in elementary education. She started flying when she got out of college and is now based in Kansas City.

Jess Tucker said he hadn't really expected to get to make the trip to Arizona. His wife gave it to him as an early Christmas present.

The Buffs were in high spirits and if it ever occured to any of them or any member of the coaching staff that they might not win, it was never evident.

Several of the boys took books along and studied lessons en route. Some slept, many engaged in horseplay, there was a complete lack of tension.

Bob Petrich's parents and his sister met him at the airport. They came in from California for the game. Bob's wife arrived either Friday night or Saturday morning from Canyon. So it was a family reunion as well as a ball game for the Petrich clan.

Frank Rispoli of the Arizona State athletic director's staff met the plane with several station wagons and cars to haul the West Texas party to the Sands Motel in Tempe. Never was a group treated more royally.

Incidentally, Frank rose at 4:45 Sunday to see the team off in fine style.

Some of Stu Johnson's relatives met him at the airport also.

Already at the motel were Mr. and Mrs. Art Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Griner. They had driven through as had the Roscoe Richardsons of Umbarger. Hosea Foster and J. O. Parker arrived about noon Saturday.

Dory Funk and Stanley Blackburn came in late Saturday.

Dr. C. C. Callarman, Roy Lisle and George Blackburn flew in in a light plane Saturday. A whole family from Olton drove through.

The Olton family was the Elbert Hymans. Elbert is a WT ex as is his son, Louis, and daughter Martha. Martha is now Mrs. Royce Bearden of Olton. Royce drives up to Canyon almost every week to attend Quarterback Club meetings.

Elbert played basketball here during the late 1920s and early 1930s.

Saturday was spent resting, sightseeing and watching the Texas - OU football game on television. Most Canyon fans Saturday night were stimulated beyond sleep by the breath-taking game they saw.

It was late to bed and early to rise for those who made the trip with the Buffs. The Buffs and the fans climbed sleepily back aboard their plane at 6:25 Sunday morning.

The return trip was swift and uneventful. There were short stops in Tucson and Albuquerque and then a perfect landing at Amarillo where the victorious Buffs were greeted by some 500 fans who had been waiting at the air terminal.

Buff Coach Joe Kerbel embraced members of his family and then was whisked to the television for his regular Sunday show.

Incidentally, West State photographer, Gort Rushmer, stayed up all night Saturday getting the game films developed so they could be shown on the Sunday Joe Kerbel show.

As fans and football players went their separate ways there already was talk of a chartered plane for the game at Tucson a week from Saturday.

County Agent's Column

Some grain sorghum producers are finding that their estimation of their crop of grain was a little high. The combines are running but the grain seems to be absent in the amount expected. This year more acres were seeded in the month of May than ever before. Guesses are that the few extra hot dry days in August when the early planted sorghum was in the critical stage caused this condition. The crop planted later is expected to be very good.

***

Winter wheat farmers may sign up to participate in the 1963 wheat program authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 between October 15 and December 14, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced.

The legislation raises the support price on 1963 - crop wheat to $2.00 per bushel to farmers who participate in the special program. The 18 - cent per-bushel support increase will be paid in-kind based on the normal production of the farms harvested acreage.

Under the voluntary program reduction provisions farmers will be able to divert from 20 to 50 percent of their wheat acreage with special diversion provisions on small farms.

In a change from the 1962 program, the signed acreage will be binding in that farmers will be required to divert the full acreage for which they sign up to be eligible for payments.

Farmers who do not participate in the reduction program may remain within their acreage allotments and be eligible for price supports in accordance with the August referendum on marketing quotas.

***

Total Texas' citrus production for the 1962-63 season is estimated at 280,000 boxes. This is approximately 6 percent of last year's production and is the smallest crop of record because of the severe freeze that occured from January 9-12, 1962.

Reports from other citrus areas, namely California, Florida, Arizona, and Louisiana, show an average or above crop.

***

October reports from Texas pecan growers indicate a small pecan crop. Production is expected to be down by 25 percent. This will be the smallest Texas pecan crop since 1951. Pecan production from eleven states, the pecan belt, will be 47 percent below the 10-year avearage.

***

Grain sorghum production in Texas is forcast as 10 percent below last year. Sorghum harvest is essentially complete for all major areas except the Plains. Southern Low Plains sorghum is 81 percent combined and the Northern Low plains crop is 53 percent out. Harvest operations are well underway on the High Plains with 16 percent combined with 34 percent of the Southern High Plains crop harvested.

Hilltop Views

I don't like to differ with my editorial chief, because I have always believed in supporting the man above you. On the other hand, I have convictions that are the result of a long life of experience and study. My self-respect demands that I live by them and defend them when occasion arises.

Last week I faithfully reported what I saw and heard and felt at the regional Democratic rally at Borger. Mr. Martin didn't dispute what I saw and heard but my reaction to that occasion stirred his emotions to the point of explosion and led him to take positions that are not easily defended.

For example, he thinks that John Connally, Secretary of Navy at the time of the attempted invasion of Cuba, should have sent the U.S. Navy to support that attempt. Anyone who cares to investigate the authority of the Secretary of the Navy to do what Mr. Martin insists upon should read Article I, Section VIII, item 11, of our national constitution. There he will find that Congress alone has the power to declare war. Not even the President of the U.S. can declare war. However, when war is once declared in a constitutional manner, the President becomes at once the commander-in-chief of both the army and navy. To blame Mr. Connally for remissness in this connection is plainly out of order.

Then he comes back to the time-worn idea of a two-party state. I have heard that argument all my life and it usually comes from a state where one or the other of the major parties is deep in the minority. The party, Democrat or Republican, that is out in the cold, argues for a two party set-up. The truth is, as I see it, two party states on the average have no better governments than one party states. Let's look around a little; New Mexico on our west is a two-party state. All who think that New Mexico has a better state government than Texas stand on your heads, please. You could just about put them all in a telephone booth at the same time. And if you don't like that comparison, try Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York--all two party states. And this is a 2-party nation. Tell us, please, how much better is Washington than Austin.

No, Troy, the trouble in Texas is not the one party system. I stayed around Austin a good deal each year for three decades. I had a speaking acquaintance with every Governor of Texas from 1914 to 1962 and with dozens of legislators. In that period one chief executive was impeached and removed from office for mishandling of state funds. Another high officer of the state has served a term in the penitentiary. But on the whole Texas Governors have been a good deal better than average Texas citizens. Nearly all of them have had elements of greatness.

Troy thinks the legislature is rotten. It probably has some rotten spots. But let me tell you what the trouble is in large part. Special interests maintain powerful lobbies in Austin and they exert tremendous influence upon the course of state policy. I know because I have seen them at work. Do you think a two party system would reduce the influence of lobbies? If so, go up to Washington where the two party system is deeply rooted. I am reliably informed, sir, that the publications lobbies are just about the most fearsome in the capital. Many Congressmen don't dare go contrary to the newspapers in their home district. Could that be what is wrong with Walter Rogers? Maybe he doesn't always see eye to eye with some of our big shots and has had the courage to live by his convictions.

And this brings up another of the straws that my editorial chief is grabbing at. He says he has heard Walter Rogers admit that at times he has yielded his own judgment or conviction to that of his congressional associates. All I have to say to that is that if we ever get a man in Congress who refuses to listen to other Congressmen and never admits he could be wrong we are sunk. One of our big troubles back home is the stubborn egotism of a good many people who think they know more about what should be done about Cuba, Berlin, the Congo and so on than do the people who are closest to those problems and know most about them. This argument reminds me of the man who wanted a horse doctor to remove his appendix.

Another thing: Mr. Martin says he has a photograph of Mr. Rogers in company with President Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson. Now isn't that some argument as to why he should not be re-elected? Since when did it become degrading to be seen in the company of the President and Vice-President of the U.S.? Now I didn't vote for either of these gentlemen, but I'll have my picture taken between the President and Vice-President of this country any time I get a chance, and will feel proud of it; and I have a sneaking notion Troy would too. If you are down to such excuses as that for opposing Walter Rogers you are about out of soap.

Next up comes this old socialism bugaboo. Now I am walking on eggs. Somebody will surely assert that Hill is a socialist: and that will forever condemn me to disesteem in the minds of some--maybe many. Well, let me ask you if you believe in our national postal system, or would you favor going back to the pactice of every one delivering or paying individuals for delivering his own mail? Our postal system, sir, is a socialistic enterprise. And how about our public road system? I suppose some of our local statemen would have each community build its own trails. What about public education? It, too, bears plain marks of socialistic enterprise. Do you favor restoring education to its status of 50 or more years ago, when public schools were few and poor, and only the well-to-do could educate their children?

To ask these questions is to answer them. Almost no one would abolish anyone of these socialistic enterprises. So fellow citizens, I am just about the same kind and degree of socialist as you--that is, if you are a normal American citizen. If you call me a pot I'll call you a kettle.

Troy is a fine old boy. I mean it. My remarks are aimed at ideas rather than any individual He and I happen to be on opposite sides of a board fence and bark at each other through the cracks. But I think he will agree that our barks are worse than our bites. So long, Lottie!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Just the fact that Mr. Walter Rogers voted for HR 9118, which created the Arms Control Agency, is sufficient reason for voters of the 18th Congressional District to retire him in November. This agency is the New Frontier's first step in subjecting and surrendering our defensive armed forces to complete possession of the Red controlled United Nations. State Department Publication 7277 (15¢ from U. S. Gov. Printing Office, Wash., D.C.), explains precisely how this is to be done.

The "Americans for Constitutional Action" rate Mr. Rogers as voting 53% of the time against our beloved Constitution. This means that where Constitutional perservation of our freedoms are concerned, Mr. Rogers votes more than half of the time with the people planners and one-worlders. To learn who these one-worlders are and how they form a secret government, write to: Myron C. Fagan, P.O. Box 46205, Cole Branch, Hollywood 46, Calif. Request News-Bulletins #87, 88, 90 and 01.

There are several other important reasons why Mr. Rogers should be retired, such as his vote for HR 11222, the Kennedy-Freeman oppressive farm bill and his vote for raising the national debt limit to 308 billion dollars. The list is too long to produce here and as I said in the beginning, just the first reason mentioned above is sufficient for many informed citizens in this district. How about you?

Sincerely yours,
Lisbon McCown, Jr.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The liberal left is counting on no resistance from those who would maintain the free enterprise system.

The plan is just to scare them out of lifting a finger to protect the system which we referred to proudly a few year's back as the "American Way of Life."

Those who do are going to be labelled as facists and nazis along with the Hitlers and Duces of another day.

Many if not most will succumb to this type of mental bludgeoning. Almost everyone is more afraid of being called an extremist than he is of losing his liberty.

***

We were out in Arizona last week end. The area around Phoenix is growing rapidly. We understand that Phoenix will one day be the largest city in the world.

A lot of the economy rests on feed lots in the Phoenix area. The stench is ever present. Even in the swank motel in which we stayed you could smell the feed lots.

There's a cottonseed processing plant there also which adds to the odor.

Folks in Phoenix say you get used to it after being there for a while. We guess this is correct. We used to live at Borger. The raw petroleum and gas smell was overpowering at first and then we got to the point we missed it when we went out of town.

***

We saw the old home place of scar faced Al Capone between Tempe and Phoenix. It is a palace-like affair with tall cactus on the landscaping outside.

It's just the kind of place you'd expect to find a man like Al Capone living in, grim and foreboding. You could shut your eyes and almost visualize the Capone gang, complete with sub-machine guns.

Some promoter is building an amusement park on the order of Disneyland and Six Flags.

***

The sun beats down constantly at Phoenix. It is an arid country. We couldn't stand even a jacket on Saturday night. At the ball game in shirt sleeves we were wet with sweat by the time the game ended.

There is little vegitation except where there is irrigation. Most of the feed that goes to the feed lots is shipped in. We suspect that much of it is grown here on the Plains.

We were with J.O. Parker, Canyon's feed lot expert. He said sunshine is the best friend of the Arizona feed lot operator. Fine weather assures the operator of the maximum gain on his animals.

Clark Jarnagin says we are more in need of the Constitution now than we have ever been. Clark came by this week for a talk about what he considers recent affronts to the Constitution.

He is concerned for states rights and declares that those who believe in Constitutional government should be on the alert against those who would alter or twist that document to the interest of personal power or gain.

Jarnagin was incensed with the President for saying the Constitution is outmoded. He said the Constitution was written to protect us against people seeking too much personal power.

The people who wrote the Constitution wrote it in an effort to protect the people from too much centralized government, Jarnagin declared. "If there's any doubt, just get a copy of the Constitution and read it," he said.

Scouts Take Railroading

Members of Boy Scout Troop 31 have recently completed a course in railroading sponsored by the officials of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe Railway System in Amarillo.

The railroad officials conduct this course each year for approximately 200 Boy Scouts in this area to help them complete requirements for the railroading merit badge.

The course consisted of three sessions, September 20, 27, and October 4, and were held in the ballroom of the Santa Fe Building in Amarillo. During the meetings, each of the department heads gave a lecture on his particular field, and some set up displays on different phases of railroading for the boys to see.

The meetings were climaxed by a trip on the San Francisco Chief to Clovis, New Mexico, for all the boys attending the course. At Clovis, the boys toured the roundhouse and other railroad facilities.

About 20 boys from the Canyon troop attended the course, which was the largest group there. Meredith Warren is Scoutmaster for Troop 31.

Mankind's Knowledge Stored In WT Library

By Jim Thomas

There is a place in Canyon where free movies are shown; that has more than a half million separate pieces of information, some of which are several hundred years old; which provides information to the public on any subject, expecially the lives and surroundings of the Panhandle people; and which has every back issue of the Canyon News since 1901 and every issue of the New York Times since 1851.

It also has a window valued at $10,000. All the panes of glass are crooked, too. Over the front door is an inscription which reads: "A cultivated mind is the guardian genius of democracy, and while guided and controlled by virtue is the noblest attribute of man." This was said by Mirabaue B. Lamar, President of the Republic of Texas from 1838 to 1841.

It is the West Texas State College Library. Describing the library, WT Librarian Frank Blackburn, says the library is dedicated to implementing and supplementing the educational program at WT. It serves as a teaching instrument in its own right as well as stimulating the intellectual and cultural life of the West Texas College campus and the Pahnahdle, he said.

The library also provides a quiet and pleasant place in which to study, do research or just read for the fun of it.

WT's modern library, administered by Blackburn, provides a basic foundation of reference material for the use of the WT student body and faculty.

Librarian Blackburn says the library contains more than 97,000 volumes of bound books designed as a supplement for the work of WT teachers and to provide most of the material students need to complete their college study programs.

Providing information on nearly any subject, Blackburn said WT's library is considered a state supported public service institution for the Panhandle in particular. Townspeople as well as students can check materials out of the library at any time, he added.

Head Librarian Blackburn says businessmen, researchers, industrial and insurance investigators, ministers, newspapermen and just average citizens often use the library for research and entertainment.

WT's library is devoting much of its efforts to improving and expanding its collections of books, periodicals and documents, thereby planning ahead for the day when West Texas State College becomes a full university, Blackburn said.

Head Librarian Frank Blackburn of the West Texas State College Library is shown looking over this year's report on the status of the library's collections and services.

He added that in addition to providing the materials for research and entertainment, the WT library also provides a pleasant place in which to use them.

Blackburn said that last year the library loaned out or circulated 42,419 books for local use. In addition, he said, 12,470 books were loaned out on reserve, thus totalling nearly 55,000 books loaned out during the 1961-62 year.

Librarian Blackburn said that WT's Reference library is designed to help people find what they want in the library's vast store of information. The Reference Library under the guidance of Miss Bertie May Williams, also serves to interpret its information when needed, he said.

Inter-library loan is a service which most college and municipal libraries have whereby they exchange books, periodicals and documents with each other. The Inter-library Loan Department borrows material from other libraries in the event they get a request for something they don't have, said Blackburn.

He added that this service is usually open to faculty and graduate students only. Few under-graduate students would be doing work so advanced that they couldn't find what they needed in the half-million pieces or more of information on file at their home library, he added.

Some of the strong points of the WT library are its collection of United States government documents, the nearly complete collection of periodicals and the library's collection of all back issues of the New York Times since 1851. Few small college libraries have a complete collection of the Times, said Blackburn.

He said the copies of the New York Times, which are on microfilm, are especially valuable because of the information they supply to history students. He added that the WT library is gradually filling in its collections of periodials such as the early issues of Harpers.

In addition to the regular features of the library, the West Texas Film Division, though not a part of the library itself, is operated in the library's basement. Films on various subjects are shown to classes as teaching aids. The film division is directed by Mrs. W. L.Smith.

Librarian Blackburn, who comes originally from Akron, Ohio, attended Kent State University in Kent, Ohio, where he earned his AB degree and two MA degrees. One of his MA degrees is in English and the other is in Library Science. He came to WT in 1958 from the University of Missouri where he was assistant to the librarian.

Jan Briggs, a sophomore Spanish major from Alpine, looks over a 1910 copy of The Canyon News. It was called the Randall County News at that time. The oldest edition of The Canyon News on file at the WT Library is September 26, 1901.

Freshmen Round Out WT Senate

Four freshmen have joined the representatives of the three upper classes in the Student Senate, campus student government association, at West Texas State College.

The four new senators were elected in a class ballot from among a slate of 12 candidates. They will serve through the 1962-63 session.

Chosen were Barbara Erwin of Amarillo, Robert Garlington of Muleshoe, Twila Whitford of Earth, and Loy Dee Terry of Meadow.

Other candidates included Bill Aldridge of Midland, Kitty Ziegler of Amarillo, Don Cook of Stamford, Ellyne Douglas of Sweetwater, Gary Frazier of Wichita Falls, Richard Bales of Tulia, Nollene Embry of Amherst, Frank Bowie of Amarillo, and Larry Elms of Tulia.

Mrs. Gordon-Cumming is shown here with an antique bed which she says is more than 300 years old. Mrs. Gordon-Cumming is one of the pioneers of this area.

Canyon Woman Remembers Canyon In Pioneer Days

BY GLENNA WILSON

Somehow, we knew, as we approached her large, white two story house, west of Canyon, that our story would not feature the "Egg-Cup Collection" of Mrs. Charles Lennox Gordon-Cumming. Glancing up at the three gables facing the east, we felt sure the lady's personality would be just as pleasant as her voice by telephone; we were not disappointed.

Met first, by the big black watch-dog, who immediately became friendly, when his mistress called, "Nig!", we were welcomed on the porch with a warm smile and handshake.

Enterting the house, we were greeted in the hall by "Little," the sprightly box-terrior who followed us through the living room to the sunny dining room on the south.

"Do select a comfortable chair--or would you care to look over my egg-cup collection?" Our attention had already been drawn to the cups so beautifully arranged in the mohogony cabinet built into a corner of the cozy room. Over 200 cups, each one with an interesting story, adorn this handsome cabinet, and brighten shelves and tables in every room, hall, and stairway of the house.

Many are expensive; all are treasured, and priceless to their collector; yet a simple blue and white chipped cup, bought from a peddler on the street of Canyon City over 60 years ago, holds pre-eminence on the memory of Mrs. Gordon-Cumming.

Soon after she was married, her husband had requested that she serve their eggs in egg-cups as was the custom in his native Scotland. She had never seen an egg-cup till she heard the peddler shouting"Unbreakable!" as he threw one against the dirt street to prove his declaration.

"They were breakable" she smiled, as she caressed the last of the sixteen she had bought that day.

"We could talk at length of these, but maybe you'd rather see the house first?" Intrigued, we followed through massive bed rooms furnished with antique suites of birds-eye maple and solid walnut.

"Charlie as a young man," she beamed, standing before a portrait of her late husband, the younger son of a titled Socttish family. The handsome blonde was born in Calcutta India in 1865, where his father Col. William Gordon-Cumming was stationed with the British army. His mother, Emma Campbell, was the daughter of another famous titled family. When Charles was six he was returned to Scotland to be educated. At the age of 19 he arrived in Canada to study systematic farming.

The name Gordon was adopted by a grandsire, Charles Lennox, when the family succeeded to the property of Gordonstown, near Alture Scotland. They were descendent of Robert Comyn, first Earl of Northumberland, a cousin to William the Conqueror.

Admiring the paintings throughout her home, we learned that Mary Elizebeth Gordon-Cumming was reportedly the first art instructor to come to the Plains. Many of the paintings, however, were done by her husband's sister, Constance, who was also a famous author. In her "Memories," Miss Gordon-Cumming describes their home, "Auchintout Aberchirder" and Altyre estate so vividly that one easily pictures young Charles as he grew up in the place, "so richly and beautifully wooded, with sudden open spaces providing charming vistas, exceedingly picturesque."

Back, in the dining room, Mrs. Gordon-Cumming related that she was born Mary Elizebeth Thomas of Scotch-Irish parents, March 3, 1878, in Dallas County. After going to college and teaching for some time in Fort Worth, the young art instructor arrived in Amarillo in the month of Sept. 1899. She remembers that there was not one brick or block of concrete in the city. The floor of the news office was half dirt and half plank. Her train was met by Ray Wheatley, who furnished her with a bicycle, and walked along carrying her suitcases to the home of his aunt.

After teaching art lessons in Amarillo schools through the winter and private lessons through the following summer, Mary Elizebeth was encouraged by firends to apply for a position in the college at Goodnight. She boarded the train; stopping off at Claude to visit Dr. and Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner and friends from Wayside, who were attending summer normal. At Goodnight she was met at the train by two women who guided her to the place where the faculty was boarded.

The same evening Miss Thomas was invited to dinner at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Charles Goodnight. It was there she met the president of the college, Dr. McClehaney who she learned was a close friend of her uncle, Judge Jim Thomas. Her hopes ran high for a decision of the trustees in her favor.

"I remember so well, about the evening meal" she reminsiced. "The way the lemonade looked in the pitcher--there was milk in a pitcher, too, home-made light bread, fresh roast beef, honey from their own hives, turnip greens grown in the garden and jelly and preserves made from the fruit of their own orchard."

After the meal she was asked by Col. Goodnight if she'd like to see the buffaloes and cattaloes. In a buggy she drove with the Colonel past 9 mountain elk, and viewed Presian sheep on the highest pennacle of the ranch. Back at the house, they were joined by Mrs. Goodnight as they walked through the orchard of apple, peach, and plum trees, on past the 10 or 12 beehives.

It was a memorable late August day for Mary Elizebeth Thomas, who was met later at Canyon by a childhood friend, Mrs. I.C. Jenkens and her husband, who took her to their ranch west of the city to visit until she learned of the decision by the trustees.

Almost a year earlier Mary Elizebeth had met the tall handsome blonde Scotchman whose place joined the Jenken's on the east, and the evening before she was offered the position in Goodnight College, she promised to marry Charles Lennox Gordon-Cumming.

"I begged Charles to let me go ahead and teach just one semester," she said, "but I'm glad now that I didn't--something might have happened, and we might never have married."

They wer married in the home of Rev. and Mrs. John Wallace in 1901, and lived in the small house built on the bank of Tierra Blanca Creek just 1/4 mile from where the present home was built in 1908.

It was here, among the tall cottonwoods and hackberry trees, near the cool refreshing, every supplying spring of water, that Alexa Constance and Mayorie Mary were born. Alexa is Mrs. Q.B. Workman of Tulia and Marjorie is Mrs. Jimmy Culwel! of Amarillo. Kathleen, now the wife of Reece Barker of Plainview was born after the family moved into their new home.

Mr. Gordon-Cumming's knowledge of farming, his experience on a small horse ranch near San Antonio and his work with the famous XIT and T-Anchor ranches, contributed to his success as farmer-rancher.

"But life was not always easy," remembers Mrs. Gordon-Cumming, "There was the perfect draught when it was so dry, cotton seed could be found in the soil a year after they were planted. Then the severe cold spell when snow covered the ground for 2 months. It seemed during this time, that my husband, was away serving on the Federal Gran Jury in Amarillo, and I was alone on the ranch."

She likes to tell about the time she went with her husband to market with surplus eggs she had carefully packed in cottonseed. Charles placed the eggs in front of the General Merchandise store in Canyon. While he went on a business errand, and she shopped, a cow with a taste for cottonseed, soon marketed the eggs.

Named among the "genuine old timers" of the Panhandle the still lovely, Mary Elizebeth, a charter member of the Mother-in-Law Club, and honory member of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, loves to live in the place where she and her husband shared the joys and trials of raising a family, the home on the rim of scenic Tierra Blanco, now a pleasure Resort and country club.

As we drove away, the silver haired pioneer lady waved to us from the porch of the house darkened by evening shadows. The tall garden cane she had planted some 57 years ago silhouetted against the rosy-copper background, painted by a prairie sun that had slipped so unnoticed below the horizon.

Social Studies Group Planning Organization

Social Studies teachers from public schools and colleges all over the Panhandle met Thursday night at West Texas State College in Canyon to consider formal organization of the Panhandle Council for Social Studies.

The group voted to organize and try to become affiliated with the Texas and National Councils for Social Studies. The National Council is a division of the National Education Association in Washington, D.C.,

The Panhandle Council would be a professional organization of social studies teachers in the Panhandle dedicated to improving and coordinating social studies courses taught in high schools with those taught in college.

This first organizational meeting was sponsored by the Panhandle Committee for Social Studies, an informal group which, for the last five years, has provided programs of mutual interest to social studies teachers in area high schools and colleges.

Laura Snyder, social studies teacher at Palo Duro High School in Amarillo was appointed Chairman of a committee to write a constitution for the group.

Laura Roberts of Amarillo High School was selected as Program Chairman for the next meeting in February. At that time the teachers will meet, probably in Canyon, to accept, ratify and possibly implement the new constitution.

Dr. Measamer of the WT Geology Department gave a presentation to the group on The Relationship Between Human and Physical Factors In Geography. Dr. Measmer pointed out that America has had remarkable development because of its unique combination of plentiful natural and human resources which were efficiently utilized.

AROUND THE TOWN
(With Kids)

Bruce Crager is the president of the Student Council. He will serve till mid-term in January.

***

As you probably know the end of the first six weeks of school are over. I'll bet some of you kids were surprised at the grades you got. Good luck in the next six weeks (and believe me I'll be needing it.)

***

The class presidents' terms are over and I'll bet that they were glad that it's over. The new ones will probably be surprised at how hard serving as class president is. Good luck!

***

Billy Byrd had his appendix taken out Saturday Oct. 6. He started having stomach aches that morning, so he was taken to the hospital and operated on. He is doing fine now.

***

Sunday I took my first ride on a combine with little Bob Lindsey. It was on the Bob Lindsey farm at Hereford.

***

Leigh Ann Briggs is doing fine now. She is the one who broke both arms. She can even move her fingers a little now.

***

RIDDLE

How is a cold like a snowstorm?

***

Answer to last week's riddle: A hole.

***

Note to Bruce Crager: I will put your picture along with the representatives as soon as I get my film developed.

Car Damaged By Fire Here

Fire destroyed a 1955 Cadilac Sunday on U.S. 87 north of Canyon.

Elmer John Cooper of the Hillcrest Motel at Tulia and his family were returning to Tulia from a visit with relatives when the right rear tire of his car blew out and caught fire. He said he saw the flames before he could stop.

Despite his efforts to put the fire out with dirt, the flames spread to the car's gas tank, exploding it and burning the entire car except the extreme front end. Cooper and his family got out safely. There were no injuries.

Captain Joe Rice of the Canyon City Fire Department arrived at the scene in time to finish putting the fire out.
